

Math readiness test for Physics 111/Physics 220

To enroll in Physics 111 or Physics 220, each student must achieve a passing score on the math readiness test the same semester. Scores will not be carried forward from previous semesters.

For Fall 2009 passing grades are:

30 for Phys 111

35 for Physics 220

Students with scores between 25 and 30 (for Phys 111) or between 30 and 35 (for Phys 220) may be allowed to enroll in the course, depending on space availability, provided that they enroll in and pass the ALEKS course prior to the drop deadline (Sep 8th). Go to the ALEKS web site and sign up for course code
